Tigers Play Baptist Saturday. Team in Fine Working Order

Greenville Will Be Scene of Battle

Coach Donahue is having a time with the many Tigers that are on the grid-iron every afternoon, and a happy time it is, because our prospects are the brightest that we have had in many years. The men are there in weight and "guts," and Coach knows just how to keep that old "pep" at its highest pitch.

We have a few old heads back in the game, and they have already proved a remarkable aid in helping the newer ones to get a good start.

Our line holds like a stone wall, for all of them have been covered with that armour (namely, Tiger spirit) that has always proved invulnerable to the piercing attacks of the teams pitted against them. Many kegs of that good old drink have already arrived, and more are coming in every day. All the Tigers like it, and ere long, they will have imbibed so much of "The Wine of Pep," that they will be drunk with enthusiasm. All of the teams that are on our schedule have our heartfelt sympathy, because they will have eight hundred men to buck against when the Tigers play them. We are determined to win every game, there are no two ways about it.

Fellows, let's begin right now, to win the games that are to follow. We are going to have mass meetings in chapel before each game so that all of us will be familiar with the yells—don't fail to get your printed list of all the yells, because we need the voice of every Tiger on the side lines to be in perfect harmony. There will be a sufficient number for all; so let every man learn every yell, and let's show these other colleges of the state what it takes to put out winning teams.

Following is a poem that was written by one of the corps:

The Clemson Tigers have sharpened their claws,
And clenched tightly their mighty jaws;
To be sure, they have made a dandy start,
But fellows, that is only a very small part.

Coach Donahue says for you and me,
And every rooter, whoever you be,
To give a yell on that swaying side-line
For the glorious team that is going to shine.

The team's watchword is, "Do or Die,"
And the corps will not stand idly by.
It's up to us to win each game
And restore the Tiger's old time fame.

Tigers, we are behind you to the very goal, last man,
"The yell fairly make "pep," out of the old Prices grand stand.
was "Pep" is the word we've added to our
and list;
Corcoran but mention it to get the whole
The corp's gist.

Haskell-Robertson Win Tennis Doubles

SINGLES TO BE PLAYED THIS WEEK.

Tennis enthusiasts will be glad to hear that the Tigers are rapidly getting into trim for the coming tournament. Already doubles have been played between Haskell-Robertson and Fitzgerald-Watkins; and Covington-Heiss forfeited to Haskell-Robertson who are the winners of the doubles.

Singles will be played as follows: Monday—Robertson will play Allen, and Watkins will play Haskell; Tuesday—Moore will play Fitzgerald, and Lawton will play the winner of the Haskell-Watkins match. The semifinals and finals will be played on Wednesday and Thursday. The winner of the singles will represent the Tigers at Columbia.

For the benefit of the Freshmen, I will say that there are four tennis courts just north of old barracks, one for each class, and you are urged to bring your racket out and show just what you can do. There are always good tennis players in every freshman class, and I know that this year's class is not an exceptional one in that respect. Come out freshmen, and show us how to do the trick.

Taps Photographer Now on Campus

SENIORS WILL "LOOK FOR THE BIRDIE" THIS WEEK.

Mr. Harry Wallace of Anderson, S. C., official photographer for Taps '18 will be on the campus Wednesday to take the pictures of the members of the Senior class. A well arranged schedule has been worked out by the Ed-in-chief, Mr. R. W. Webb, and the Business Manager, Mr. G. W. Suggs, whereby the difficult task of snapping so many "beauties" will be disposed of in record time. This is earlier than usual to begin on the pictures, but an excellent idea; and it shows that things are going to hum this year with such pushers behind the work.

Mr. Wallace was the photographer for the Annual last year, and was chosen again this year on account of his unusual ability as a photographer, and because of his wide experience in annual work.

If you are in Calhoun and want some cheese, let Burdette do the buying. Ask him how much he gets for twenty cents.

One man bought a ticket this year as a preventive measure. His eyes were apt to suffer if he continued observing the games from fourth floor windows of barracks No. 1.

When we were "rats," we were always ready to serve. It's the same the following years—only in a different way.

NEW OFFICERS APPOINTED

At dinner Saturday, the appointments of cadet officers, to fill vacancies of those men who failed to matriculate, were published. On account of the war taking so many of our men, there were many appointments—and, by the way equally as many disappointments! As soon as the companies were dismissed, the disappointed, and others, proceeded to get busy and carried out an old custom by giving some of the struggling and kicking "Non-coms" a ducking in the fountain pool in front of Memorial Hall. Maybe some of them needed the water, and maybe they didn't, but the other fellows forgot the wise old caution about going in water so early after a meal, and, if the publication made the new officers think that they were dreaming, the water brought realization, and they are made fully initiated officers.

With the country at war, the corps is taking a new interest in the drills, and we are expecting to turn out a regiment in June that'll lick the Kiser!

Following is a list of the commissioned officers as they now stand. A list of the sergeants and corporals will be published next week.

CORPS MAY BE CLAD IN KHAIKI

REGULATION ARMY UNIFORM FOR WARM MONTHS.

Provided the contractor, Wm. C. Rowland, can buy enough khaiki cloth, (a very scarce article at present) and other matters are arranged, we will have a khaiki service uniform for drills and fatigue uses during the early fall and spring. This uniform, which is to replace the light weight now worn, will consist of a campaign hat, cord, two olive drab shirts, two breeches, one pair of leggings, and college collar ornaments. In winter the customary heavy weight grey will continue to be worn. The matter of getting regulation army shoes at actual cost has been taken up, and perhaps they will be added to the above listed uniform.

It will be a great thing for Clemson to have the khaiki, and the boys will be over-joyed to be easy and comfortable in shirt-sleeves during the hot months instead of sweltering in a stiff, high collared blouse.

First Number of Lyceum Course

The first number of this season's Lyceum program was rendered last Saturday evening by Castellucis Neapolitan Orchestra. The program consisted of selections by the orchestra and several vocal solos. Several selections were rendered by a stringed trio. While better lyceum attractions have been here, this entertainment was enjoyed by the large audience of hill people and cadets.

Seniors to Give Opening Dance

AUBURN VISITORS AS GUESTS

The first Dance of the season will be given Friday, Oct. 19th by the Senior Dancing Club. The outlook is exceedingly good, and this dance promises to be one of the best that the class of '18 have ever given.

The added attraction of the dance will be the Red Cross feature. As each guest enters the hall, he will be allowed to help our boys across the water, by contributing an amount to the Red Cross fund.

The Gym is being refinished and is expected to be vastly more attractive than before.

The Auburn football team will be the guests of the club, and this, along with the "pep" of '18, will make it "some dance."

EDITORIAL.

Every man at Clemson College has given his solemn word of honor as a southern gentleman and South Carolinian not to inflict bodily injury or use personal violence upon any new student. A large majority of the student body have stood by their pledge, and the practice of "hazing" is not as universal as in former years. However, several of our number do not seem to have any regard whatsoever for the fact that they have given their word, saying they stop hazing. No doubt this is thoughtlessness on their part. But, gentlemen, think! Realize what it is to break your word of honor. Haven't you the same blood in your veins that flowed in the veins of the ante-bellum southerner? Knowing this, can you threat thus lightly what they would have died to protect? The pledge you have signed is aimed at excessive and brutal hazing only, not at innocent fun. Have fun with the "rats," joke with them, and "allow" them to serve you—they're anxious to do it; but don't do anything that will rob you of your right to be called a real southern gentleman. KEEP YOUR WORD!

During summer a great many new paths were laid off about the campus and now one can go anywhere on a cinder path or walk and yet be going the shortest route. In spite of this some insist on walking on the edges of the grass, and spoiling the appearance of the campus. "Watch your step" fellows, and let the grass have a chance. Also lets all stop throwing trash and papers around barracks. It's just as easy to throw them in the waste cans where they belong. You wouldn't think of littering your home yard up in any such manner; so lets not litter up our "yard" here.

Architectural Prize Winner Announced

FIRST PLACE TO L. C. ELLIS.

The South Carolina Chapter of the American Institute of Architects offered a prize for the best student work in Architecture at this institution last year. The judges appointed were Messrs. C. C. Wilson, George E. LaFaye, and E. A. Sompayrac, all architects of Columbia. They have judged the drawings and have awarded the first prize to L. C. Ellis, who is now in the service of the Government. They made the following report:

"It was with some difficulty we arrived at a conclusion, for the comment of all was that the work was most creditable. We have, however, awarded our prizes as follows:

"The first prize to L. C. Ellis on railway station. It was the decision of the committee that there being but one prize offered by the Chapter, that we would award this prize to L. C. Ellis, as being the best thing of the several studies submitted. He will, therefore, be entitled to the prize of $10.00.

"The first prize on supreme court buildings was awarded to J. E. Hunter; the first prize on golf clubs to E. S. Lieberman; the first prize on classic detail to M. M. Cornwell; the first prize on free hand drawing to R. Aldrich.

"In connection with the prize to Ellis, it was argued that his solution in an inexpensive way of a practical problem, and one which is very much alive during this strenuous time, was the most creditable and we congratulate him upon his solution, and his success in winning this—the first prize of the South Carolina Chapter."

Industrial Pictures To Be Shown Again

Tuesday after supper the first of a series of industrial pictures which are to be shown here this year was exhibited in chapel. The general interest of the corps was attested by the fact that the chapel was well filled.

Last year thru the efforts of Prof. Howard industrial motion pictures were given in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium about twice a week. The pictures were good, and of general interest; so that the audience grew beyond the capacity of the auditorium. To meet this emergency Prof. Howard asked the trustees for an appropriation to buy a picture machine and fit the chapel up for exhibiting purposes. The trustees after discussion granted the petition, and as a result towards the last of the year a new "Powers" motion picture machine was bought and installed in chapel. The whole outfit is new, and of the best on the market, thereby giving splendid pictures.

The pictures shown last year were very instructive, both to the engineer and agriculturist alike. Some were of large manufacturing plants, as the Ford Motor Works; others of ranches, irrigation projects, etc. This year they will be of the same nature, but with a number of additional industries. The good derived from these pictures will certainly prove the investment to be the best the College has ever made toward broadening the scope of its curriculum.

Proposed New Plan For The Chronicle

EACH SOCIETY TO HAVE AN ISSUE

As most of us know, the Chronicle is the monthly magazine published under the auspices of the six literary societies. However, any student of this college may submit manuscripts. The Chronicle is open to anyone who has something which will make interesting reading. Poems, articles, and stories are all welcome.

It has been the custom in the past for any one to turn in an article for publication in any issue.

It is proposed now, however, to try a new plan. As there are six literary societies, it is suggested that each one take an issue of the paper and turn it out, with all the contributions coming from members of that particular society.

Of course this would leave two issues unaccounted for, but these could easily be gotten out under the old plan.

The new plan, if adopted would start with the second issue, that is—the one for November.

There are several things which make this plan a good one. For one thing, it will stimulate interest in the magazine.

Rivalry between the societies will increase, and each one will strive to outdo the others. This will result in a better, bigger, and more interesting publication. Then too, people will learn more of literary society work, for each society could publish a short account of its history, aims and ambitions in their issue.

Altogether, the plan seems to be a good one, and while not definitely decided upon yet, it is thought that it will be adopted.

The Calhoun society has already gone on record as favoring it, and has offered to take the first issue just to start things off.

ALUMNI

R. F. Poole, '16 is doing graduate work for a degree in Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N. J. "Sarg" will be remembered by many of the alumni and old students as a varsity football player and an all-round good student. He was on the varsity team his last two years in college, returning after graduation to take past-graduate work and play another year of football.

W. L. Perry, who has until recently been engaged in munition work at New Haven, has been accepted for instruction in the aviation corps at Boston, Mass. After several weeks of instruction in this camp, he will be given a lieutenant in this branch of the service. Perry, in a letter, states that this division of the service is the hardest of them all to get into as about three applicants is all that is accepted of each ten.

Richard S. Hood, '14 is now a lieutenant of engineers at Fort Levensworth, Kan. Since graduation he has been located at Pittsburg with the Westinghouse company and has recently been made one of the heads of the St. Louis offices. For several months he was civilian instructor at Fort Levensworth before entering into training for commission. He is now at Fort Riley.

W. H. Wileford of Sumter, who has recently received a commission at Fort Oglethorpe, has been ordered on expeditionary duty abroad.

J. J. Murray, '17, who finished the chemistry course at Clemson is now in a chemists laboratory at Charleston, S. C.

"Chops" Albrecht, '16 is in the First Regimental Band at Greenville, S. C. He will be remembered by many old Clemson men as taking an active part in the orchestra as well as playing the piano in the Glee Club while here.

B. Breland, '17, the man of little stature and loud voice, now holds the responsible position of agricultural Director of Calhoun Agricultural High School, Calhoun, La.

B. M. Jackson, '14, is demonstration agent in the extension division at Monroe, La.

"Pat" Smith, '15 is at the University of Wisconsin doing insect investigation work. He is soon to be transferred to office work with the Truck Crop Insect Investigation Department at Washington D. C.

G. G. Harris, has recently been married to Miss Ester Smith of Columbus, Ohio. He is now with the Federal Horticultural Board at El Paso, Texas.

J. C. Hamlin, '16 is taking post graduate work at Ohio State University.

E. H. Pate, '15 is located at Bishopville, S. C.

T. C. Haddon, '14, who has been on the teaching force at Winthrop until recently, is now with the United States Dept. of Agriculture, Dairy Division and is stationed at Knoxville, Tenn.

CAROLINA.

The Carolina held its second meeting of the year Friday night. Mr. Heiss, the first man on the program, gave a splendid oration, his subject being, "Why the United States Declared War on Germany." Mr. Banks discussed how the United States may meet the shipping problem. Mr. Givener gave an excellent declamation, his subject being "The Last Leaf." Some very good jokes were told by Mr. Gilmore. Next on the program was the debate, Resolved, that "The United States Has a Right to Fix Prices on Food Stuffs." The affirmative was upheld by Messrs. Pitts and Ayers and the negative by Messrs. Sharp and Corcoran. Both sides were ably upheld. The judges, Messrs. Mathis, Herring and Lawton, decided in favor of the affirmative. Four new members were received into the society.

Y. M. C. A.

BLUE RIDGE.

The Clemson delegation to the Blue Ridge Conference last June are very enthusiastic in their reports of the delightful ten days spent there. Our delegation was the largest one at Blue Ridge and was composed of the following students: W. H. Bryant, O. E. Baker, E. M. Bostick, O. F. Covington, I. W. Dugan, W. M. Dunlap, T. A. Folger, J. E. Herbert, W. F. Howell, R. F. Kolb, J. M. Leland, J. F. Marscher, F. L. Parks, G. W. Price, B. H. Stribling, and W. H. Thrower. Reverends W. H. Mills and J. M. Steadman were our faculty representatives. Our alumni representative was A. H. Ward of the Extension Division. Mr. Ward did not spend but three days at Blue Ridge, but he was there long enough to help us win a game of basket ball from Washington and Lee.

Mr. W. F. Priddy, Y. M. C. A. Mill Secretary at Central, was our only visitor.

The interest and enthusiasm of our entire delegation was largely due to the presence of our popular general secretary, Mr. P. B. Holtzendorff, Jr. The presence and active interest of the two ministers inspired the entire delegation with a seriousness of purpose that would not probably have developed otherwise.

Each hour of the ten days was filled with certain scheduled work and this work was entered into by every Clemson student with the view and determination that was characteristic of the entire Conference. A few members of our delegation took morning plunges in the swimming pool, but after one or two plunges, it seemed as if several had lost their bathing suits. The cause, upon close investigation, was found to be due to the fact that the water spent the night in the cold mountain tops and came trickling down in the early morning, too cold to freeze into ice. The morning hours were given over to elective courses in mission, Bible, and personal work studies. The afternoons were taken up with athletic contests, swimming, hiking, and mountain-climbing; the evenings were given over to studies of life and sectional problems, delegation meetings, and general social gatherings.

Not a single student varsity athlete took part in any of the athletic contests entered into by our delegation. In baseball, notwithstanding the unusual ability shown by Pitcher "Vacuum" Marscher, we were put out of the running on the first lap by the Vanderbilt team. We defeated Washington and Lee in basket-ball, but were also defeated in this branch by Vanderbilt. In tennis, we were defeated in the doubles by Webb School, but "Holtzy" won the singles championship. Parks was "Holtzy" partner in the tennis doubles.

Especial enthusiasm over the social life was evidenced by the entire delegation. A marshmallow roast around a big bon-fire on the hillside in front of Lee Hall with the Martha Washington girls as hostesses, and a Martha Washington "At Home" one afternoon, stand out as the two pleasantest social events of the whole ten days. Our delegation gathered around a fire in the Clemson-Winthrop cottage several evenings for a marshmallow roast, all for ourselves.

Some of the principal speakers and leaders in these periods of recreation and training were Robert E. Speer, Seely K. Tompkins, Dr. O. E. Brown of Vanderbilt, E. T. Colton of the International Committee, Dr. E. M. Poteat of Furman, and Dr. Charles W. Kent, of Virginia, who died a few days ago.

From the first supper, with its greetings, chicken salad, ice cream, and other good things that made the countenances of the entire delegation beam with pleasure, to the final "wild-cat" yell; the whole ten days stand out as the most inspiring and exalting period spent in the lives of all the college men there. Ask any of our delegation who returned.

VESPER SERVICE.

Each evening of the week, right after supper, a song service is held in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium excepting Saturdays and evenings given over to mass meetings. A short devotional service is held during the meeting.

On last Sunday evening, Mr. Miller made a short address on "Winning the Fight." He took as his text, "And the spirit of God departed from him." The speaker said Samson was physically strong, but spiritually weak; that he failed to put his life on God's side in the fight between right and wrong, but depended upon his brute strength. He lost the fight, because he allowed lust in the form of Delilah to master him.

In striking contrast to Samson, the character of Joseph was shown. Joseph put his hand in God's and won the fight. He became the savior of his nation and the ruler of Egypt because he refused to surrender virtue into the hand of Potiphar's wife. The little in stature, he was large in soul. He realized that virtue is never offered for sale. He had the same temptation as Samson, but he fled from the very appearance of lust. This was his secret of success.

The speaker in conclusion urged those present not to "Let the spirit of God depart from you," but to let God be with them every hour of the day. We win out when we put God first and self last. Samson ignored that fact; Joseph realized it; lived up to it; and won the fight. Each man has the same fight. The question is, "Are you on God's side or are you selfishly forgetting?" Your success depends upon your answer to that question.

Third Series of Training Camps

The third series of officers training camps will be inaugurated January 5 and run to April 5. They will be primarily for the education of enlisted men of the regular army, guard and national army. In addition, however, 2,490 graduates or undergraduates from ninety-three specified schools will be admitted.

These schools are primarily for line officers. Camps will be located at each regular army, guard and national army divisions and at the Philippines, Panama, Hawaii, Fort Bliss, Fort Sam Houston and Chickamauga.

It is not known positively, but within all probabilities Clemson will be among the schools to send men to the camp. No doubt a good number of men will go, if allowed to, and it goes without saying that they will maintain the high standard set by the "War Class of '17."

After having initiated twenty new members into the society, the program was carried out in an excellent manner. The following men participated in the program: Messrs. J. W. Conyers, R. L. Atkinson, R. T. Bishop, P. M. Burns, R. F. Kolb, M. P. Etheredge, and H. H. Keyserling.

The president made a short talk, urging every member to do his best in the society work; he also read the minutes of the first meeting which was in 1894. The election of sergeant at arms was then called and Mr. C. E. Smith was selected to fill this office. As there was no further business the society adjourned.

CALHOUN.

The society was called to order by the president and led in prayer by the chaplain. After the roll call and the adoption of the minutes of the previous meeting, Messrs. F. H. Leslie, M. T. McCown, and J. L. Wade were excused from the society in order attend a reception. Mr. L. B. Hefner was then received into the society. Mr. L. H. Childs was appointed representative on the hall committee. After this the regular program was taken up.

Mr. R. W. Webb, the essayist, gave us a very interesting essay on forestry. The orator, Mr. W. L. Austin was absent. Mr. C. P. Roper then read a very humorous selection on "The Frog." The disclaimer, Mr. W. J. Kennerly gave us a selection from Kiplin, which was enjoyed by all.

The regular debate was then taken up, the Query being "Resolved, that a diligent student will gain more information from reading than from observation." Messrs. Sullivan and Leopard upheld the affirmative, while the negative was upheld by Messrs. Snellgrove, and McMilian. Many good points were brought out by both sides. The house decided in favor of the negative, while the judges decided in favor of the affirmative.

Mr. Parks gave the society a good extemporaneous speech on the "Tiger." After hearing the report of the Query Committee, the society adjourned.

PALMETTO.

The meeting was an unusually good one, as every man on duty was well prepared. One disclaimer, Mr. Bruce, was excused to allow him to attend the Presbyterian reception. The other disclaimer, Mr. Morecock, gave a fine declamation on "Our Flag." The orators, Messrs. Felder and Gaines, gave good orations which were much enjoyed. The Essayist, Mr. Barnette, gave an unusually fine essay on "The Voyage of Life." Mr. Cannon was joker of the evening and did well. The query for debate was "Resolved, that the change in the curriculum at Clemson will be for the betterment of the student and the college." Messrs. Martin and Patrick were on the affirmative with Messrs. Elliott, and Rode, on the negative. All the debators showed much preparation. The judges, Messrs. Kinsey, Free, and Harley, decided in favor of the negative.

The following new men were initiated into the society: Smoak, L. G., McFall, J. W., Smith, D. P., Freeman, J. T., and Byers, W. B.

The president appointed a committee to draw up resolutions expressing sympathy over the death of a fellow member, Mr. M. O. Carter. Messrs. Gaines, Harmon, and Free were appointed as this committee.

The names of Messrs. M. B. Woodward and N. C. Saunders were turned in by Mr. Kirpatrick as applicants for membership. Mr. Rode turned in the name of Mr. J. A. Mohemney.

"AN OUTLOOK"

The open barrack's windows seem to smile a welcome smile,
As they gaze upon the campus in a most inviting style,
And behold the many footsteps, plodding slowly o'er the ground,
And then hear with satisfaction, the low hub-bubbing sound.

Well, here we're all assembled, back to college and more work,
Let us close the book of pleasure, and straighten with a jerk,
For we've spent our summer joyous and its brimming o'er with fun,
Now we're here in full attire, and the race is to be run.

As we gaze into the future, let us say we see ahead,
A banner gilded o'er with "The Clemson Tigers led!"

"They're the team that can't be beaten, with the grit to back their pep, They're working for the college and not living on their rep."

And beyond the sporting record, flies the College's standard high,
With her member's names a leading in the pledge that says, "We'll try."
For thy're foremost in the drilling, in the work-shop, with the pen,
In fact they lead in everything, and what's more—They're gentlemen!

Clemson Agricultural College

A young man can make no better investment than in a technical education. Viewed merely as a matter of business, even if he has to borrow the money at interest, he will find that his increased earning capacity perhaps even the first year after graduation will be sufficient to repay the loan. It is a poor business policy to wait to earn the money necessary to pay for an education with an earning capacity only one-half or one-third that of an educated man. Every year of untrained, uneducated labor represents a direct financial loss. Every boy of ability and ambition whose parents are unable to pay for his education, should get some friend to indorse his note at the bank and begin preparation that will make for greater earning capacity and a fuller life. There is no time to lose. The world is looking for men of large ability and is willing to pay for them. Already there is a surplus of the one-horsepower variety.

SOUTH CAROLINA'S SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING AND AGRICULTURE

One of the largest and best equipped Agricultural and Mechanical Colleges in the South. 1,544 acres of land. Value of plant over $1,300,000. Over 120 teachers, officers and assistants. Enrollment of over 800. Every county in South Carolina represented. 13 Degree Courses. 4 Short Courses. 24 Departments of Instruction. New and Modern buildings, equipment and sanitation. Over $100,000 expended in public service.

VALUE OF A TECHNICAL COLLEGE EDUCATION

A college education is no longer a luxury of the rich, but more a necessity of the poor boy whose parents can give him little or nothing to start on. In earning capacity, it represents at the outset a capital of from $15,000 to $30,000, depending upon the energy, character and personality of the possessor, and the capital increases with every year of its efficient use.

There never was a time in the history of the world when expert knowledge was so much in demand, so indispensable to individual success, and so highly compensated. For the untrained await the positions of low wages, long hours and poverty.

Clemson College brings within the reach of every boy in South Carolina the benefits and possibilities of a technical education. The way is provided whereby, if he have the ambition and capacity for knowledge, he need not continue in ignorance. Here, at a cost lower than at any similar institution, can a young man obtain an education that will prepare him for self-sustaining, self-respecting citizenship.

W. M. RIGGS, President.
